

Evangelin Arulselvi, Ph.D.
Biography

A native of Tuticorin, TN, India, Dr. Arulselvi holds a Doctorate in English Education from Periyar University, India, a Master's degree in English from Madras University, Chennai, India, a Master's degree in Public Administration from Annamalai University, TN, India, and a Master's degree in Counseling and Psychotherapy from Tamilnadu Open University, TN, Chennai, India.

Dr. Evangelin is an Associate Professor of English education at the University of Dammam in the Eastern Province of Saudi Arabia. She previously served in India as an Assistant Professor in English at The Periyar Maniammai University, The Esther College of Education, and The College of Arts and Science, Periyar University, and as a Principal at The Arputham College of Education, Mahendra College of Education, S.S.M. Matriculation Higher Secondary School, and S.S.M. Matriculation School. She is published in The PMU Journal of Humanities and Sciences, The Educational Journal of English Language, The Indo African Journal of Educational Research, and The Journal of English Language Teaching and has published numerous books on the teaching of English, micro teaching, socially useful productive work, and the teaching of computer science.

Dr. Evangelin presents internationally on her research involving the teaching of English, advanced teaching strategies, academic proficiencies, and numerous other areas of study. She regularly participates in educational workshops on teaching strategies, faculty accreditation/assessment, and student engagement. She has received numerous awards from the Academic Council of Principals of Matriculation Schools, the Honourable Minister of Higher Education, and St. Christopher's College of Education.

Dr. Evangelin is a life member of many notable professional/scientific associations including The Indian Society for Technical Education, The All India Association for Educational Research, The Academy for Registered Psychotherapists, and The Association of Professional Psychologists.